Main Project:

Title: Detection of Land Attack Using Snort Tool

Description: Presently e-community business, web services and organizations are mainly suffering by denial of service (DOS) attacks. DOS is a common attack that causes significant problems in business operations and many organizations are suffering from these attacks over the Internet. This type of attack is created by sending a high rate malicious traffic towards the server and block genuine users using desired network sources and services. In this way this attack consumes the network resources and services which results into degrades the availability of desired services to the valid users. This system efficiently detects DOS LAND based on IP Spoofing. This system analyzes the network resources consumed by an attack. This system is implemented and tested using open source tools.
